Grammy nominated American jazz organist, Joey DeFrancesco, sold his blonde Hammond B3 organ on eBay.

What's so interesting about that? Well, it was bought by Geoff Williamson, an organ restorer from Gippsland on the condition that Joey could play the organ when he visited Australia.

He's here now headlining Generations in Jazz in Adelaide, and will play the old Hammond B3 for the first time in 14 years.

President's Report

One of the benefits of manning the front desk at every gig is that you get all the feedback from members and visitors – whether you want it or not! In recent months there's been a constant theme, particularly from the welcome newcomers who've only just joined. It may be summed up as 'We hope this club lasts forever', and I can confirm that this sentiment is shared by your tireless Committee. But it won't happen by accident or some random actions on the part of the Gods of Live Music.

First of all, we need your ongoing attendance on gig nights. Bands are not getting any cheaper, and neither are our other expenses such as advertising, raffle prizes, insurance and so on. Membership subscriptions and sponsorships cover the majority of the overheads, but the 'make or break' factor is the admission income, which explains why we occasionally have to raise the admission prices for gigs when the band comes at a higher price. Put less diplomatically, if the Club is to battle through these uncertain economic times, we need your continuing support.

Just look at the acts we have lined up for the rest of the year, with Mojo Webb in July, Galapagos Duck for August, Dezzie D and The Stingrays in September, Horn Among The Roses booked for October, and The Session Band for our 'Xmas in November' special.

But just as important is continuity of management, if the Club is to outlive those who currently give of their time to keep things flowing. Our AGM is looming, and once again we send out the call for all those who even think that they might be interested in joining our Committee. This month's Newsletter tells you how to do it, and we look forward to welcoming you aboard.

David Field, President

May Gig – Trombone Kellie

Trombone Kellie did it again. She, and her Muddy Roaders, warmed up the audience (it was really cold outside) with her powerful voice and spirited trombone playing. She and the boys played old blues and new blues – Muddy Waters to Aretha Franklin and lots more in between. We enjoyed solos from Derek Siddon on trumpet, John Helman on bass (formerly with the Daly Wilson Big Band). And who could forget Peter “Scrubby” Hurcombe’s solos, demonstrating what an excellent guitarist he is. The audience loved it.

June Gig – Robyn Brown and her Quartet

Robyn Brown sang some beautiful songs from the American Songbook in her individual style and delightful voice and her choice of some little known gems recorded by stars such as Billie Holiday was a refreshing change. She was accompanied by excellent musicians including Wil Sargerson, keyboard and Todd Hardy, trumpet, both of whom have visited us before.
